Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Folks around here should be proud of the compassion shown by city police when a broke and hungry family appeared on the scene last Monday night.

Their desire to help them ended with several courthouse officials and other citizens making up enough money to send the family of six on their way by bus.

Police in general have a reputation of being tough in dealing with people, but their action on Monday and yesterday shows they are people with compassion too. Probably the reason police are tough with some people is simply a matter of self preservation.

Went out to Edgar Shirley's the other day and got some coleslaw to set out. They grow fast and easy and they also drop seed which will come up next year.

Had a good conversation with R. L. Cooper on human nature the other day. We didn't solve anything but did agree that you can beat it.

Drive by the new Murray Hospital and you'll get a good idea as to how the finished product will look.

Concrete blocks have been laid and window frames are being put in, to give the layman a fair idea as to how it will appear when completed.

Something else the city school district resident will have to give attention to is the proposed expansion of the city schools.

Naturally no one likes more taxes, but when you can see the results of such a tax it makes it easier to bear.

An examination of the facts should be made by each person so that he can determine the need himself.

We have tried during the past seven months to pass on all the information about the city school system, which led up to the proposal to expand the system.

The largest single fact may be seen in the senior class of last year compared to the class to enter this fall. Last year about 66 students graduated as seniors. The senior class this fall will be well over 100.

A clear knowledge of the need will clear up a lot of talk and allow the individual to cast his vote intelligently.

Police Seek Five Escapees Loose In Area

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (UP) — State police and law enforcement officials in southwest Kentucky and Tennessee continued to search today for five of six Negro prisoners who escaped by sawing their way out of the Christian County jail late Tuesday.

One of the six, Herman Poindecker, 24, who had been jailed on armed robbery charges, surrendered voluntarily early today. Poindecker was being held to the September grand jury on charges of beating an elderly woman grocer with a door handle during a robbery near Ft. Campbell.

Poindecker told police his mother talked him into giving himself up.

State police said several of the escapees are believed to have made their getaway in a 1954 black and yellow automobile.

Jailer Sue Witherspoon said the men, who were confined in one large room in the jail, apparently used a hacksaw to saw through bars between 4 and 6 p. m. (GST) Tuesday.

The mass breakout was discovered shortly after 8 p. m. They apparently waited until several men working at the City Garage Building behind the jail had left for the day before beginning to saw their way out.

A seventh prisoner, John H. Young, refused to go with the escapees.

Still at large today were: Charles Cross, 27, charged with armed robbery in the robbery of a laundromat; Charles Green, 18, held with Cross in connection with the laundromat robbery, and also charged in connection with a filling station robbery.

Otis Matlock, 24, charged with killing a man at his home.

Billy Joe Reeves, held on charges of breaking and entering.

And Major D. Walton, 31, charged with assaulting a police officer during a break-in at a grocery.

Subcommittee On Acquisition Of Property To Meet On Lake

Representative Clifford Davis of Tennessee, Chairman of the Select Subcommittee on Real Property Acquisition of the Committee on Public Works, announced today that the Subcommittee will hold public hearings in Knoxville, Tennessee, on July 29, and in Paris, Tennessee, on August 1 and 2. The Knoxville hearing will be held in the new Sprinkle Building, 508 Union Avenue, S.W., and the Paris hearing will be held at the Paris Landing Inn. All sessions will begin at 10:00 a. m.

These hearings and others to follow in coming months are part of a comprehensive study undertaken by the Subcommittee to determine whether owners and tenants of property affected by federal and federally assisted land acquisition programs are fairly and equitably compensated considering the value of their property, the expenses they incur in relocating their homes and businesses and the interests of the general taxpayer.

After more than a year of intensive study and analysis of the many diverse laws and practices under which public agencies acquire property, the Subcommittee is moving into the field to learn more about how these laws and practices work in actual operation and to obtain at first hand as wide a sampling of viewpoints as possible.

In view of the vast experience of the Tennessee Valley Authority and the U. S. Army Engineers these first hearings will focus primarily on the methods and standards which these agencies use to acquire property and establish compensation. Representatives of TVA and the Army have been asked to describe their land buying practices in detail.

Property owners and tenants affected by various public projects and lawyers, appraisers and other interested persons are invited to appear before the Subcommittee on Monday afternoon July 29, 1963, and Thursday afternoon August 1, 1963, to present their views.

Chairman Davis stressed that the study and hearings are concerned only with those matters which bear directly on the fairness of compensation to owners and tenants. Questions relating to the desirability of programs or the plans, design or location of specific projects are not within the scope of the study.

Paris Man Freed In Theft Case

A charge of receiving stolen property, made against Ray Spaulding, operator of the Splendid Cafe in Paris, was dropped in General Sessions Court Monday.

Spaulding is one of a group of Henry Countians who were accused of benefiting from the activities of a two-state theft ring. Evidence against at least four men was presented to the Grand Jury, which convened Monday as the annual July term of Circuit Court began.

General Sessions Court Judge Robert Swain said the charge against Spaulding was dropped when the state said it had no proof to offer at that time.

Merchandise allegedly stolen from Kentucky stores, was purchased by several persons in Paris, according to charges originally placed.

Charged In Connection With Breakin Of Calloway Grocery

Four men have been indicted on charges they benefitted from operations of a two-state burglary ring, according to Henry County Circuit Court records.

Nine indictments returned Tuesday by the Grand Jury. The jury is not expected to meet again during the current term of Circuit Court.

Four indictments charging bringing of stolen property into the state were returned against Harvey W. Merrell of Porter Court, Merrell also faces charges of burglary in Kentucky.

Indictments charging receiving stolen property were returned, records showed, against Lee Lax operator of a Paris service station, Ray Spaulding, operator of a Paris cafe, and Buster Cox, operator of a junk yard. Three indictments were shown against Lax and one each against the other two.

Six other persons had been accused of benefitting from the burglaries. They are being turned over to authorities in Kentucky. More than $1000 in stolen property was reported recovered by Henry County Sheriff Ralph Fields.

Persons named in other indictments, and the charges against them, follow:

Danny Ray Herndon and Larry Grainger, burglary and larceny; Charles Henry Bowers, obtaining personal property under false pretenses; Orby Williams, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Wife Empties Pistol In Husband, Reloads

BEDFORD, Ind. (UP) — "I think God will forgive me for what I have done," the attractive 42-year-old mother said.

Mrs. Geneva Brewer was held today on murder charges after she admitted she shot her husband 13 times at a road side park near here.

Her 13-year-old son, Phillip, told police he saw his mother kill his father, Elsworth, 43.

The family had wandered about Indiana in an old station wagon for six months with Brewer working for two or three days at a time as a carpenter, then quitting and moving on.

Phillips said he last went to school in Centerville, Ind.

The boy told officers his parents had been arguing for about four hours he said. They had spent the night in an abandoned house near Evansville.

His mother said the money should have been spent on food. The family had only $2.60 in cash—which his mother held.

He remembered the car nine miles east of here on U. S. 50 and told him to take a walk in the woods with his pet—a boxer dog and a cat.

He went into the woods, he said, and then heard the shots. He ran back and found his mother pumping bullets into his father lying along the roadside.

His mother told police she emptied the nine-shot target pistol. Then she reloaded and shot her husband four more times.

Registrar Urges Quick Return Of Application Forms

Wilson Ganit, Murray State College registrar, has announced that all persons who plan to enter Murray State as freshmen this fall should return their applications for admittance to the college as soon as possible.

"We need these forms to set up our pre-testing schedule," Ganit said. "We are most eager for students living in West Kentucky to take these tests before registration begins in the fall."

The tests, required of all new freshmen, are for placement and counseling purposes and are not entrance examinations.

Two dates, July 27 and August 3, have been set for the tests.

Dr. Castle Parker was highly praised today by Dr. Walter O. Parr, executive director of the Mexico "Good Neighbor Project," on their return from the projects two-week good will tour of Mexico, which Dr. Parker attended with his wife and two children.

The Parkers joined the tour in Monterey, where Dr. Parker gave free dental care to "El Rancho de Rey," a private orphanage outside the city. Next he visited the Rotary Club orphanage in Mexico City, then stayed in Mexico City while the tour moved on to work at several orphanages in the area. Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

WASHINGTON — Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D.-Pa.), appealing for the passage of a fair employment practices bill: "To be always at the end of the hiring line; always the first to get the pink slip; always the sweeper or washroom attendant and never the machine operator or sales manager — this is the shameful role in which we have cast the 10 per cent of our population whose skin is not white."

MIAMI BEACH — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, addressing the National Governor's Conference: "For the first time since the beginning of the cold war, there are omens of change in the climate between East and West. Profound changes are developing in relations among members of the Communist bloc. New attitudes toward dealing with the West are being manifested by the principal nation in the Communist bloc."

LOS ANGELES — Superior Judge Burnett Wolfson, when told that a real estate salesman wants to change his name to Peter Lorre because so many people have told him he looks like actor Peter Lorre: "I don't question this man's right to change his name. But why out of 111 million names did he choose this one? Why does a man look for trouble?"

Harrison, N.J. — Patrolman Dennis Dacey, describing the condition of passengers on a commuter train shortly after it rammed a switch engine: "They didn't know what they were doing. They were in shock. Everyone seemed to have bashed in heads."

Who's Going To Rob Groat Of MVP Award

By FRED DOWN

United Press International

Maybe some team will steal the National League pennant from the Los Angeles Dodgers but who's gonna rob the MVP award from Dick Groat?

The answer should be nobody because what value do you put on a slick-fielding shortstop who is a fiery field leader in addition to hitting .343? That's the 32-year old Groat's average today and it puts him squarely on the path toward his second NL batting championship and second MVP award. Groat won 'em both in 1960 when he batted .325 and led the Pittsburgh Pirates to their first NL pennant since 1927.

Today, Groat is doing his Herculean best to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to their first NL pennant since 1946.

It's a tough task, all right, because the Dodgers are rolling out front with a six-game lead but you can't blame a man for trying.

Groat Sparked Victory

Groat "tried" Tuesday night with four hits in five tries that sparked a 14-hit attack in the Cardinals' 5-1 win over the Milwaukee Braves. Ray Sadecki went 5 1/2 innings to win his sixth game of the season while Bob Hendley suffered his seventh defeat.

The Dodgers continued to get great pitching as they downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-0. Jim Maloney pitched a one-hitter to give the Cincinnati Reds a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs, the San Francisco Giants downed the New York Mets, 9-1, and the Houston Colts scored a 6-5 win over the Philadelphia Phillies in 15 innings.

Johnny Podres, the new "hot" man on the Dodger pitching staff, pitched a seven-hitter and struck out six in winning his sixth straight game and raising his record to 10-6. Ken McMullen, hampered and Podres, Wally Moon and Tommy Davis had two hits each to lead Los Angeles' 10-hit offensive.

Maloney Won 15th

Maloney, strong-armed Cincinnati right-hander, yielded only a first-inning single to Ellis Burton as he cruised to his 15th victory against three losses. Maloney struck out 7 but didn't get the run he needed in a duel with Larry Jackson until Frank Robinson singled home Vada Pinson in the eighth inning.

Willie Mays drove in three runs with two homers to help the Giants hand the Mets' Roger Craig his 15th consecutive defeat and his 17th compared to two wins this season.

Craig hasn't won a game since April 29. Juan Marchionni pitched four innings and struck out six behind an 11-hit attack that also included three hits by Harvey Kuenn and two each by Willie McCovey and Jim Davenport.

Al Spangler singled home John Bateman, who had tripled, to break up the 15-inning marathon in Houston. Turk Farrell struck out five with a three-run homer and a single.

Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris—$172,000 worth of muscle—may owe their World Series checks this fall to second-stringers Johnny Blanchard and Steve Hamilton.

With sluggers Mantle and Maris still on the sidelines because of injuries, the New York Yankees have boosted their American League lead to nine games. In the stretch utilityman Blanchard has regained his 1961 form, and Hamilton has nailed down a "dependable" tag in the bullpen.

The 30-year-old Blanchard whose batting average dipped to .235 last season after a brilliant .305 and 21 home runs in 1961, drove in four runs with two homers to lead the Yankees to a 7-0 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Tuesday night.

Hamilton, a southpaw, batted out starter Stan Williams in a bases loaded, none-out situation in the eighth inning by striking out Leon Wagner, Lee Thomas and Billy Moran. The crowd of 17,203 at Yankee Stadium gave Hamilton a standing ovation.

Tigers Sweep Two

The Detroit Tigers swept a doubleheader from Chicago, 5-1 and 6-4, to drop the White Sox into third place. Steve Barber pitched a 4-0 four-hit victory for the Baltimore Orioles over the Washington Senators; the Kansas City Athletics stopped the Boston Red Sox 1-0, and the Cleveland Indians edged the Minnesota Twins, 3-2, in 13 innings.

Blanchard, playing right field in place of Maris, connected for his fifth and sixth homers of the season. His second round-tripper of the game was a three-run blast off southpaw reliever Jack Spring, topping a six-run fifth inning. Cleve Boyer chipped in with his 11th homer and Hector Lopez, another substitute outfielder, collected two hits.

The victory was the Yankees' fifth in a row, with Hamilton preserving Stan Williams' fourth triumph. So far this year, Mantle and Maris have played only 21 games together.

Four Nine Behind

The White Sox double loss dropped them one percentage point behind second-place Boston. Only three points separate Boston from fifth place Baltimore. Boston, Chicago, Minnesota and the Orioles all are nine games behind the Yankees.

Norm Cash and Al Kaline knocked in eight runs during the doubleheader for the Tigers. Cash smashed two homers, including a grand slam, to give Hank Aguirre the triumph in the opener while Bob Anderson won the nightcap with a solid relief job.

Refrigerated Food Supply Is Ample

WASHINGTON — The American housewife had fewer pounds of refrigerated foods to choose from on July 1 than she did a year earlier. Even so, supplies appeared to be ample.

The Agriculture Department said there were 4.9 billion pounds of refrigerated holdings in food warehouses July 1, about the same as a month ago, but 6 per cent fewer than on the same date a year ago. The 1957-61 average stocks for July 1 are 4.2 billion pounds. Frozen vegetable stocks on July 1 totaled a record 946 million pounds, the Department said. This exceeded by 77 million pounds the previous July 1 high established a year ago. Holdings of all vegetable items were above average for the date except for asparagus and cauliflower.

Frozen fruit supplies rose 55 million pounds from June 1 to July 1, about 5 million less than a year earlier and 34 million fewer than average. July 1 stocks of 328 million pounds compared with 365 million pounds last year and average holdings for the date of 370 million pounds.

Orange concentrate holdings on July 1 were 43 million gallons, down 5 million gallons from June 1. Normally, orange concentrate holdings go up at this time of year, but freezing weather in Florida in December and early this year cut the citrus crop considerably.

Butter stocks on July 1 totaled 395 million pounds. This is 8 per cent less than a year earlier but more than double the average holdings for July 1. American cheese holdings of 368 million pounds compared with 454 million pounds on July 1 last year.

Meats in storage on July 1 totaled 619 million pounds. Frozen poultry stocks were 178 million pounds, of which 90 million pounds were turkey holdings.

Four state universities have contracted with the Agriculture Department to conduct research on bacteria that cause milkly disease of Japanese beetles. The bacteria would be used as a biological weapon against the Japanese beetle, a most destructive crop pest.

The research will be conducted by Kansas State, Michigan State, Illinois and Minnesota Universities.

TV CAMEOS: Tim Conway

Local Boy Makes Good on Video Network

By ED MISURELL

PLUMP Tim Conway readily admits that he is Irish and that he possesses their proverbial luck. In addition, like many of his forbears, he has the gift of witty gab.

"In my long career in show business—about two and a half years," he chuckled, "I've gotten a number of breaks that some guys wait years for." As he smiled, his round face, topped by a balding head, closely resembled a bright, full moon.

One of his first bits of good fortune explained the 29-year-old comedian during a brief visit to New York recently, occurred in October 1961. "Rose Marie came through Cleveland while on a tour promoting 'The Dick Van Dyke Show'."

"She turned up at the local station in which I was working, saw some things on a variety show which I wrote and directed and said I might be a good bet for 'The Steve Allen Show'."

"She borrowed some tapes showing what I did and took them to Allen when she returned to the West Coast. Three weeks later I got a call from Allen asking me to come to Hollywood. Apparently, Steve liked the way I performed in sketches on the first program for he put me on his show nine times after that."

UPON COMPLETION of the shows Tim returned to his job in Cleveland. Shortly after, the luck of the Irish came to the fore again for him. Among those viewers who had spotted him on the Allen shows was producer Ed Montagne, who was looking for a number of comic performers for his new series, "McHale's Navy," scheduled for telecasting on the ABC network during the 1962-63 season.

"They had already cast Ernest Borgnine as Lt. Cmdr. McHale and some of the other roles," said Conway, "but not that of Ensign Charles Parker, a hapless, bumbling 'spit-and-polish' officer aboard a PT boat in World War II. Montagne put his head on the chopping block and said he wanted me, Tim Conway, for the part."

"Who's Tim Conway?" everyone asked. Fortunately for both Montagne and me, once we went into production everything worked out well. He got off the block and I got on the payroll permanently."

There are lots of howls when Ernest Borgnine (right) and Tim Conway of "McHale's Navy" get together on TV.

Since the cast on "McHale's Navy" is an all-male one, Tim said they can get a lot of work done quickly. "I'm not knocking girls, mind you," he smiled.

"I've got two of them at home—my wife, Mary Anne, and our daughter, Kelly Anne, who is a year old this summer."

"It's just that our crew doesn't have to sit around waiting while a dresser makes certain that every hair on a girl's head is in the right place or that her make-up is perfect before a camera is rolled."

During his present trip, Tim paid a visit to his home town, Chagrin Falls, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, where he was born on Dec. 15, 1933. After attending local schools there, he studied at Bowling Green State University.

Following his graduation he went into the Army in 1956. "I served for two years at Ft. Lewis, Seattle," he said. "I went in a private and came out a private. That's another nice thing about TV, it promoted me to officer."

Following his discharge from the service, Tim settled in Cleveland, where he got a job working for TV disc jockey Big Wilson. "I had no particular plans in mind about my future," he said, "but decided to take whatever wit began to draw."

His ready wit began to draw howls from the staff and before long he began to write gags for Wilson and also promotional material for the station. "This in turn brought him an offer from another Cleveland station and Tim accepted the job of writing and directing a daily hour-and-a-half variety and comedy show. It was during this period that he came to the attention of comedienne Rose Marie."

Although he has turned full-time actor on "McHale's Navy," Tim hasn't given up on his writing. "A show I wrote for the series—'The Ensign Gets a Zero'—was telecast about a month ago," said Tim. "I've written three others for next year, although I haven't, at the moment, sold them as yet."

With Tim's proverbial luck—and talent for comedy—they'll probably be accepted any day now.

Dear Abby . . .

TRY APPRECIATING IT - AND THEM

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Why do people think that because you have a large family, your yard is a public playground? Right now twelve kids are playing ball in my back yard, and only seven of them are mine. The children aren't allowed to play in other yards because they ruin the grass. I really don't mind, but it wouldn't hurt some of the other parents to share the noise with me. At night they ask me to turn on my yard lights so they can play after supper. When, oh, when will I have peace and quiet again?

JUST WONDERING
DEAR JUST: Too soon. And you can take my word for it. Count your blessings. Your children are occupied in healthy, wholesome play, and you don't have to worry about where they are—or with whom. Anybody can raise grass. It takes special qualities to raise children.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and my mother and I have been fussing over something very silly. We were all at the ball game and I was with a very nice boy. He took my hand. My mother then leaned over and told me to quit holding hands with him. Abby, couldn't she have waited until I got home? She had to make a big scene in front of everybody. I don't see anything wrong with a boy and girl holding hands at a ball game, do you?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Your mother could have told you quietly to quit holding hands, but I think she was right to tell you. A display (even a minor one) of affection is out of place in public.

DEAR ABBY: Someone suggested to "Ma" (who was upset at seeing "Pa's" choppers grinning at her from the dresser top while Pa was outside moving the lawn) that she "sleaz" Pa's choppers and leave in their place $3.20 from the "Good Fairy". Well, a set of dentures contains only 28 teeth. So at the rate of 10¢ per tooth, Pa should be left only $2.80.

Sincerely,

Beef Supply Larger Than Year Ago

WASHINGTON (AP)—The supply of beef on the hoof is considerably larger than a year ago. Eventually, this will become more meat in the dining room.

The Agriculture Department's Crop Reporting Board estimated there were 8,839,000 head of cattle and calves on feed July 1 in the 28 major feeding states. This is 11 per cent more than a year earlier. The Board said increases in numbers were shown in all weight groups with cattle weighing more than 900 pounds up 17 per cent from July 1 last year. Steers and steer calves on feed accounted for most of the increase in cattle on feed over a year earlier.

The board said there were 4,414,000 head of cattle and calves on feed July 1 in the north central region, 13 per cent more than a year earlier. This region contains more animals being finished for slaughter than any other.

All states in the region except Missouri had more cattle on feed than on July 1 a year ago.

Iowa, the leading cattle feeding state, was up 9 per cent, and Illinois had 14 per cent more cattle on feed. Other increases ranged from 5 per cent in South Dakota to 40 per cent in Wisconsin and North Dakota. Missouri had 1 per cent fewer cattle on feed.

In the 11 western states, there were 1,984,000 head of cattle and calves on feed July 1 for the slaughter market. This was up 7 per cent from a year ago. There were more cattle in all states of the west except Wyoming, which was unchanged, and Washington, where the number decreased.

California, the leading western state, was up 8 per cent. Colorado was up 3 per cent and Arizona was up 5 per cent.

States in other regions showed these changes in cattle feeding from a year earlier: Pennsylvania, down 2 per cent; Georgia, down 21 per cent; Alabama, unchanged; Oklahoma, 10 per cent; and Texas up 24 per cent.

The 1963 winter wheat harvest is about over, according to the government's weekly weather and crop bulletin for the week ending July 13.

The harvest approached the final stages in the western half of the corn belt and Nebraska, and extended as far north as Wyoming and South Dakota in the northern plains. About half of the Montana winter wheat acreage showed color and a small percentage was already ripe at the end of the period.
